Aura Curiatlas Physical Theatre Presents "Dream Logic"

See "Dream Logic" – a collection of magical, quirky, and exciting short stories, told through acrobatics, dance, and theatre – March 7, at 8 p.m. at Christ Church Neighborhood House.

Aura Curiatlas Physical Theatre presents "Dream Logic" in a premiere performance in Pennsylvania. Find enchantment in ordinary situations presented in unexpected ways through theatre, dance, and acrobatics.

Aura Curiatlas asks ... what happens? What happens to the crayons that don't get picked? What happens when the only bus seat left is completely broken? What happens to the dream when it loses its dreamer? Meet the curious characters living within our collection of short stories, and join them on their journey. What happens when exciting acrobatics and beautiful dance fuse to create stories of comedy, ritual, romance, and struggle? Aura Curiatlas will show you!

The uniqueness of Aura Curiatlas's work is apparent, not only in their quirky and incomparable style, but also in the variety of ways audience members can connect to the stories. Even if you can't relate to being a crayon, you may know what it's like to not get picked. Even with no previous experience in dance or acrobatics, viewers are in for an evening of exciting, playful, and thoughtful work. Perfect for all ages!

Aura Curiatlas performs March 7 at 8 p.m. at Christ Church Neighborhood House, 20 N. American Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19106. Tickets: $15 general admission; $12 students. Visit www.ACPhysicalTheatre.com.
